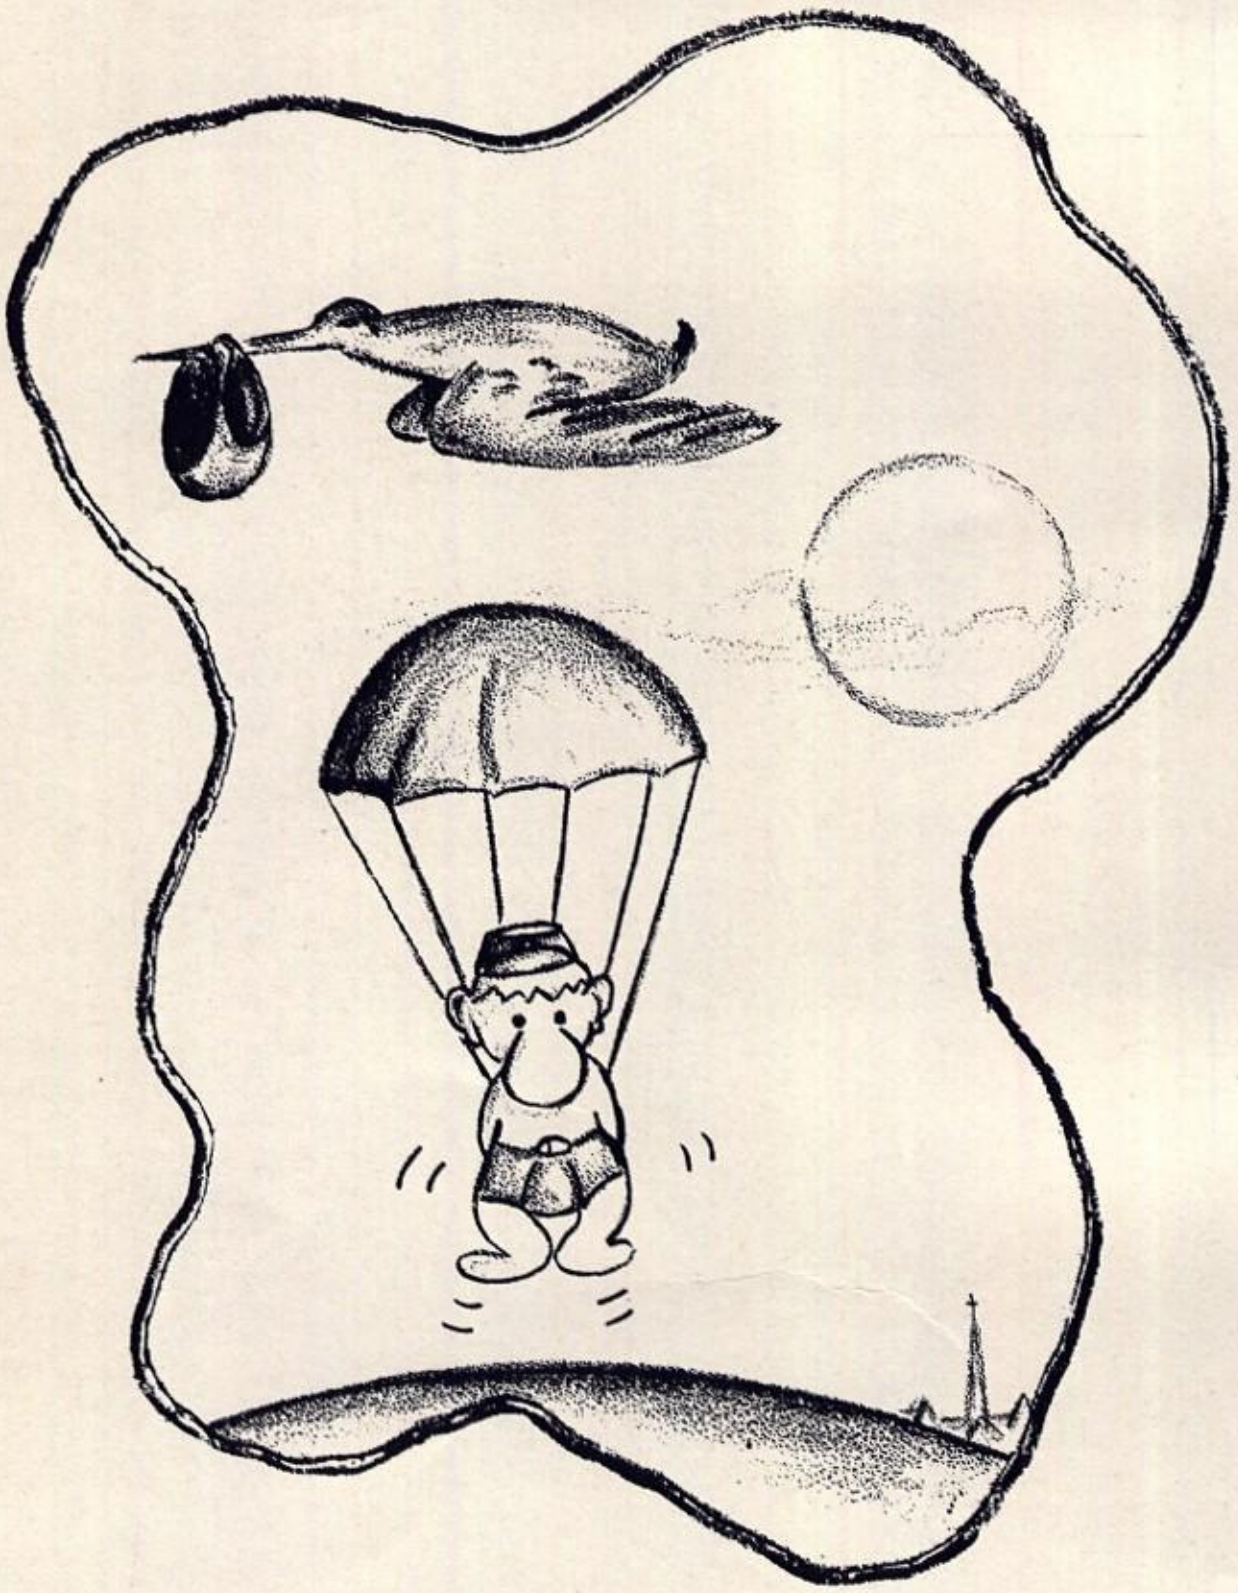
Foreword - - -

Many years ago in the minds of men and women, a thought began to grow. As the years passed it became blueprints and specifications, a concrete foundation, mortar and bricks, an edifice of modern classrooms spread out on a hilltop overlooking the city of Austin.

Today it stands a shrine of education, our William B. Travis High School.



Dedication - - -

We the staff of the Rebel Roundup of 1954 proudly dedicate the first annual published at William B. Travis High School to the citizens of South Austin, who through their earnest endeavor have given the children of South Austin the finest and most modern educational facilities available.

Rebels now and in the future will always be grateful to you.

Mrs. O. D. Weeks, secretary; Mr. Noble W. Prentice, vice-president; and Mr. W. I. Kocurek, president of the Board of Education; discuss the business of the approaching meeting.

Mr. W. I. Kocurek

President
Board of Education

"Opening the new schools in Austin is but another step in going ever onward," Mr. Kocurek told the audience at Travis Dedication Services at Travis High School, September 20.

Board of Education

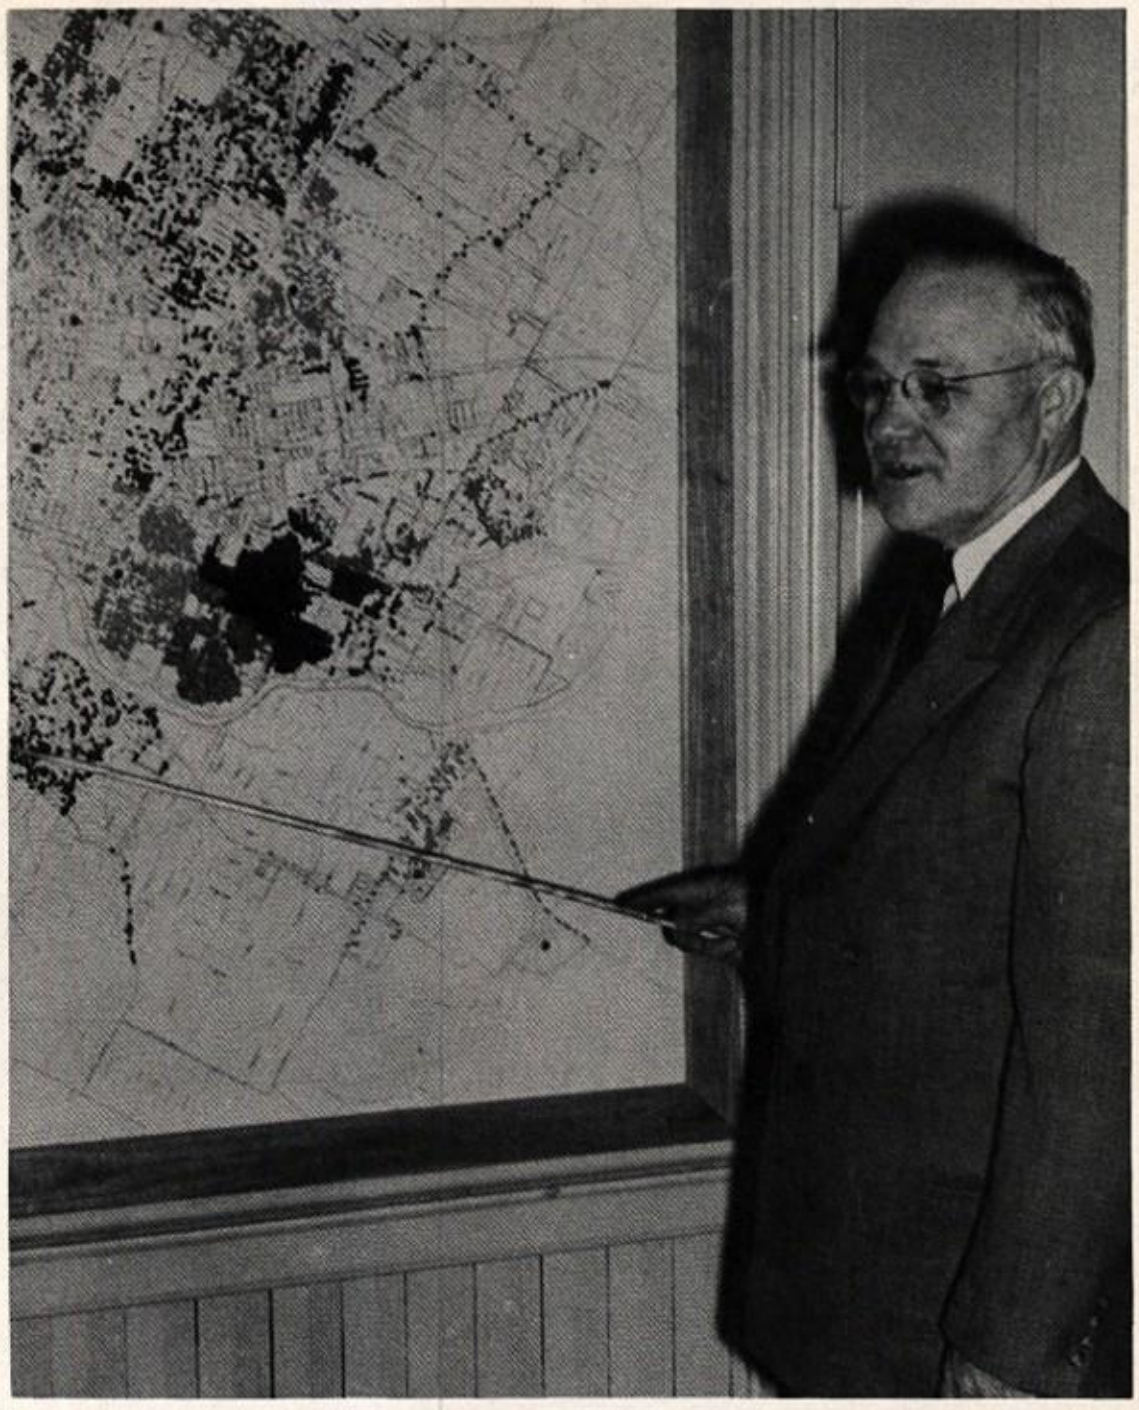
Mr. A. G. Adams, Mr. D. T. Lamme, Mrs. R. N. Lewis, Mr. W. R. Koch, Mr. N. W. Prentice, Mrs. O. D. Weeks, and Mr. W. I. Kocurek are seen here at a regular board meeting.

Mr. Irby B. Carrut

Superintendent

Austin Public Schools

Mr. Carruth pauses to talk with Congressman and Mrs. Homer Thornberry, Principal W. A. Sloan, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dye, presidents of the Travis P.T.A., following the dedication ceremony. Congressman Thornberry, making the main address of the day, said, "Let us dedicate this building to the great challenge of educating the generations to come, not as a memorial to the past."



Mr. T. N. Porter, assistant superintendent of the Austin Public Schools, points out the Travis High School area on a school map.

Below, Mr. Arthur Cunningham, Jr., director of pupil personnel; Mr. Temple B. Mayhall, director of school plant; Mr. Ernest W. Cabe, Jr., director of personnel and research; and Mr. T. P. Baker, director of instruction; discuss plans for the celebration of Texas public schools' one hundredth birthday.

Mr. M. M. Watson, Audio-Visual Education; Mr. Weldon Covington, Instrumental Music; Mr. B. D. Burnes, Guidance and Counseling; Dr. R. J. Johnson, Music Education; Miss Ruth Junkin, Library service; and Mr. J. L. Keel, Health, Physical, and Camping Education; discuss problems that arise in their different fields of supervision.

Supervisors of Austin Public Schools

Dear Seniors:

It has been a pleasure this year to be associated with you, the original Rebels. Your examples will be excellent foundations for the traditions that will be developed in William B. Travis High in years to come. We have learned to count on you for the excellent leadership that you have shown.

As you look over this letter in years to come, we'd like for you to remember that we always want to know what you are doing and how you are getting along in the world. We urge you to keep in touch with us.

Not only will fond memories linger with us, but we shall always have a feeling of real pride in our first regular class of seniors. You have been outstanding. May the best of everything always be yours.

Sincerely yours,

W. A. Sloan

Parent-Teacher Association

The Parent-Teacher Association and Rebel Booster Organization have done much to provide Travis with equipment needed by a new school. The concession stand at basketball games, sponsored by the P-TA and the pancake supper on October 10, and carnival on April 30, sponsored by both groups, helped raise money for their main project this year—paying for Band and Rebelette uniforms.

Members of the executive committee are Mrs. E. P. Conkle, Mrs. Angus McDonald, Mrs. John Volz, Mrs. C. A. Dye, Mr. C. A. Dye, Mrs. W S. Conner, Mrs. B. V. Howell, Mr. W. A. Sloan, Mrs. Leslie Huff, Mrs. Authur Schriber, and Mrs. B. R. A. Jordon.

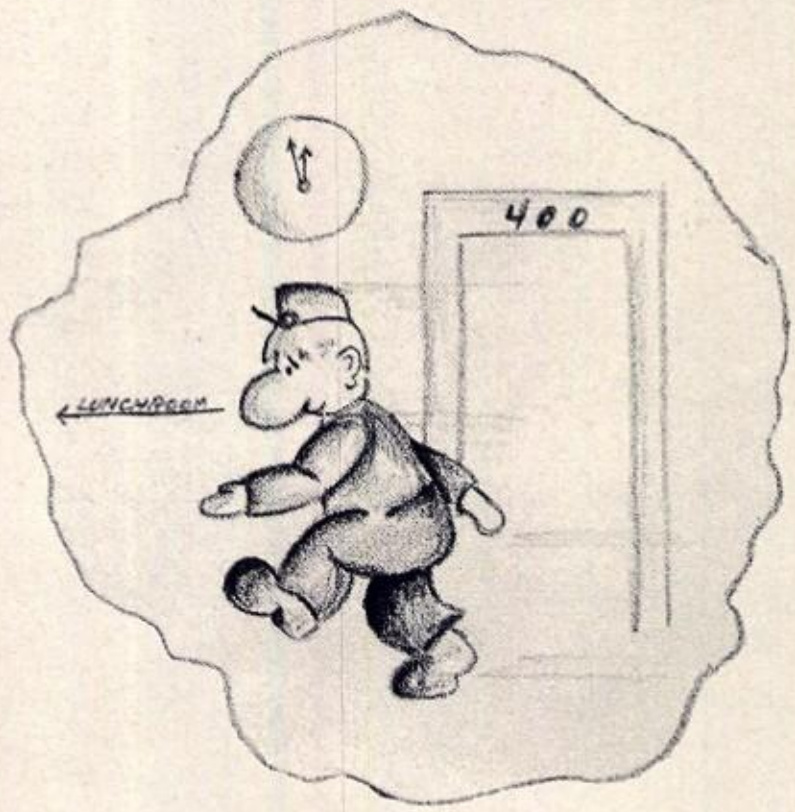
During the first few days of school students realized how spread out our new buildings were. After being late to many, many classes, Rebels learned to hustle. The thirty minute lunch period seemed much too short with a "thousand miles" to walk to get to cafeteria, long lines to wait in, and so many friends to visit with! It wasn't long though until Rebels took this, too, in stride.



Participating in a panel discussion for Texas History are Virginia Pierce, John Ross, and Norma McGahee.

With only five minutes between classes, students crowd the arcade between the two buildings.

Freshmen

Although new to high school this year, the freshmen took an active part in school life. Publicizing Beat McCallum Week are C. W. Lanier, Jane Lay, Delores Keller, Marjorie Lindholm, Wanda Hyden, and Terry Jackson from Mrs. Forster's prize-winning advisory.

Class of '57

Gradually students who last year attended a junior high school or Stephen F. Austin High became real Rebels.

Their school spirit was helped along as the Rebelettes, selling streamers for the football games as early as September 11, met students every Friday morning as they approached school, encouraging them to support their team.

"Buy a Streamer!"

Beginning a tradition of their own, the ninth grade pep squad honored the Junior Rebel football team at a supper party November 5 in the cafeteria. Helen Willingham, Claude Hargrave, Jane Pannell, Tommy Davidson, Elena Conkle, and Johnny Brown enjoy the last dance.

Student Council

The very backbone of student activities at Travis this year has been the Student Council. Listed among major accomplishments for its first year of existence are the publication of a student directory, beginning the morning devotional program, adopting the student constitution, and planning and carrying through a varied social program for Travis Rebels by sponsoring the Christmas Formal, the Valentine Sweetheart Ball, and the May Fete.

Waiting to catch the plane that will take them to El Paso to the meeting of the Southern Association of Student Councils are Miss Irene Randerson, sponsor; Lynn Huff, president; and Charlotte Washington, recording secretary.

The job of any annual staff is to capture in pictures and words the story of a school year.

If between the covers of this annual we have caught some of the fun and hard work and laughter that went into this first year of Travis High's existence, then our year, too, has been a success.

The biggest activity sponsored by The Southerner, other than publishing a paper every two weeks all year long, was the Starlight Revue. Hundreds of hours went into making flowers and preparing the stage setting for the beauty revue. On the ladders, Bob Treadwell and Jimi Lee Lands place flowers on the tree while Mary Tucker, Joan Fuhrman and John Meadows assist them.

To the delight of the staff, The Southerner was rated All-Texas by the Texas High School Press Association in December.

Eighteen editions of The Southerner were published during this year by the staff members with the assistance of the journalism class. Rebel Band Representing Travis in numerous public appearances was the Rebel Band in attractive red and gray uniforms. This active group played short concerts before the Travis dedication services, the Lions Club minstrel show, and the Rodeo during the Austin Livestock Exposition. They led the Band Day parade, marched in the Boy Scout and the Centennial parades and still found time to present their first annual concert and to enter contests. A good beginning for any organization!

Rebelette activities for the year were many and varied. They began the year ushering at the registration in full uniform. After many long hours of practice they performed at the football games and supported the Rebels during basketball season as well. A service group, the Rebelettes ushered at various programs and participated in several money making projects to pay for their uniforms. Marching down Congress Avenue in parades, they gave onlookers a thrill. The main social project of the year was the Southern Ball in March. Tryouts are held at the end of each year for new members for a worthwhile and enjoyable organization.

Travis High

Directed by Mr. Alvis Autrey, the mixed choir sang for various church groups, and participated in assembly programs at Travis as well as other schools. A program by the Freeport choir was presented in February and Travis's choir entertained at the Centennial pageant.

Thespians of the Scarlet Masque

December 11 was a red letter day for members of the Scarlet Masque for at 8 o'clock that evening the curtain was raised on their first production, "The Robe." An excellent performance was given. Other Thespian activities included participation in the Centennial pageant and entering the one-act play competition in the Interscholastic League. Their "Fantasy on an Empty Stage" received a "Good" rating.

Future Homemakers of America

During F.H.A. Week, November 1 to 7, homemaking students entertained parents and faculty and planted roses on the school grounds. For their big Christmas activity, the girls made stockings, candy, and toys for the Junior Red Cross. A party at El Matamoros was also on their holiday calendar. In May the homemakers crowned their sweetheart at a formal dance.

This year the Travis F.H.A. attended meetings in Elgin, San Antonio, and Fort Worth. At the San Antonio meeting Rene Strong was elected district song leader.

Future Farmers of America

Travis F. F. A. members entered shows in Houston, San Antonio, Austin Rodeo, Austin Judging Show, San Marcos Judging show, San Marcos Sweepstakes, Llano Livestock Judging Committee, Area F. F. A. Judging Committee, and State in poultry.

It was not all work and no play for the Future Farmers though, for there was a tri-school party in November, wiener roast in December, and the Parent-Son Banquet in April.

Judging livestock is one of the activities of the F.F.A. Mr. Tom Branyon, sponsor, points out qualities of good breeding stock hens to Mattie Ruth O'Banon, Camilla Pope, Gerald Boyd, and Malcom Crawford. Lower left, Daniel Olle studies the good qualities of this Hampshire hog. Lower right, discussing judging points of sheep are, kneeling, Robert Guinn and Gloria Grohmann; standing, Mattie Ruth O'Banon, Camilla Pope, and Malcom Crawford.

A state organization, the Pan American Student Forum works to better relations among all the Americas. Members work very hard during the year on contests for the annual convention. A yearly project is determined and the club works to carry out that project. At Christmas the Spanish classes competed with each other to fill boxes for needy families of different races. A caroling party was held and "a good time was had by all."

"Hiding the Christmas tree" are Pat Ledenham, Nancy Hoffman, and Charles Lucas.

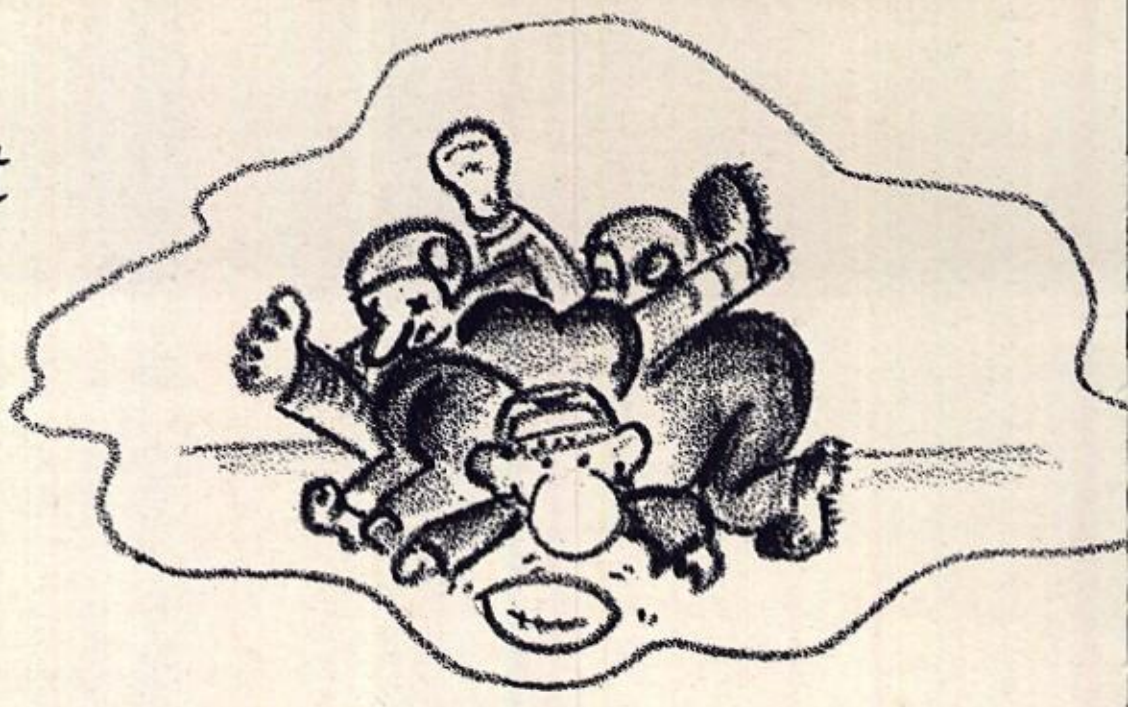
Our Rebel Spirit Never Met Defeat



The 1953 version of the Travis Rebels to many was a big disappointment, but to the true football fan the Rebels did exceptionally well. A green bunch of boys, with little or no experience, in a little over a month and a half of practice came up with three wins, six losses, and one tie. Not once during the season did the team appear to give up despite the scores that stood against them. These boys have set a pattern of fine sportsmanship that will be looked up to by future Travis teams.

TRAVIS 12
UVALDE 12

Opening the season in Uvalde the Rebels, despite their fumbles, tied the Coyotes in a hard fought game. Billy Rogers scored the Rebels' first TD. Xavier Guedea passed to Joe Guedea for 30 yards and the second Rebel marker. Travis fumbles set up both Uvalde TD's.

TEXAS CITY 19

Playing their first home game the Rebels started off slow, trailing 13-0 at half-time. Xavier Guedea scored from the 5-yard line. Quarterback Otto Lind dived over from the one to tie the score 13-13. Only seconds remained as the Stingarees scored to give Texas City a 19-13 edge.

ALICE 0

Rebels first victory! Tandy Freeman and Cecil Bryant set up the Rebels' first score, with Xavier Guedea going over. Ronnie Spillar went 72 yards for the second TD. Xavier Guedea tossed a pass to Ronnie Spillar for the last Rebel tally.

LOCKHART 0

Second straight triumph! First score came on a pass from Otto Lind to Thomas Henslee. Only other score came on the last play of the game by Ronnie Spillar. Clayton Evans sparkled at fullback for the Rebels. Good defensive performance by Cecil Bryant and Bernard Burk.

Billy Rogers scored again to give Travis a 13-7 ha time lead. Going into the final quarter the Knigh had built up a 21-13 advantage. Joe Guedea scor from the 3-yard line and the extra point made 21-20. As time ran out the Rebels were fighting score again. Travis can only say, "Just wait till ne year!"

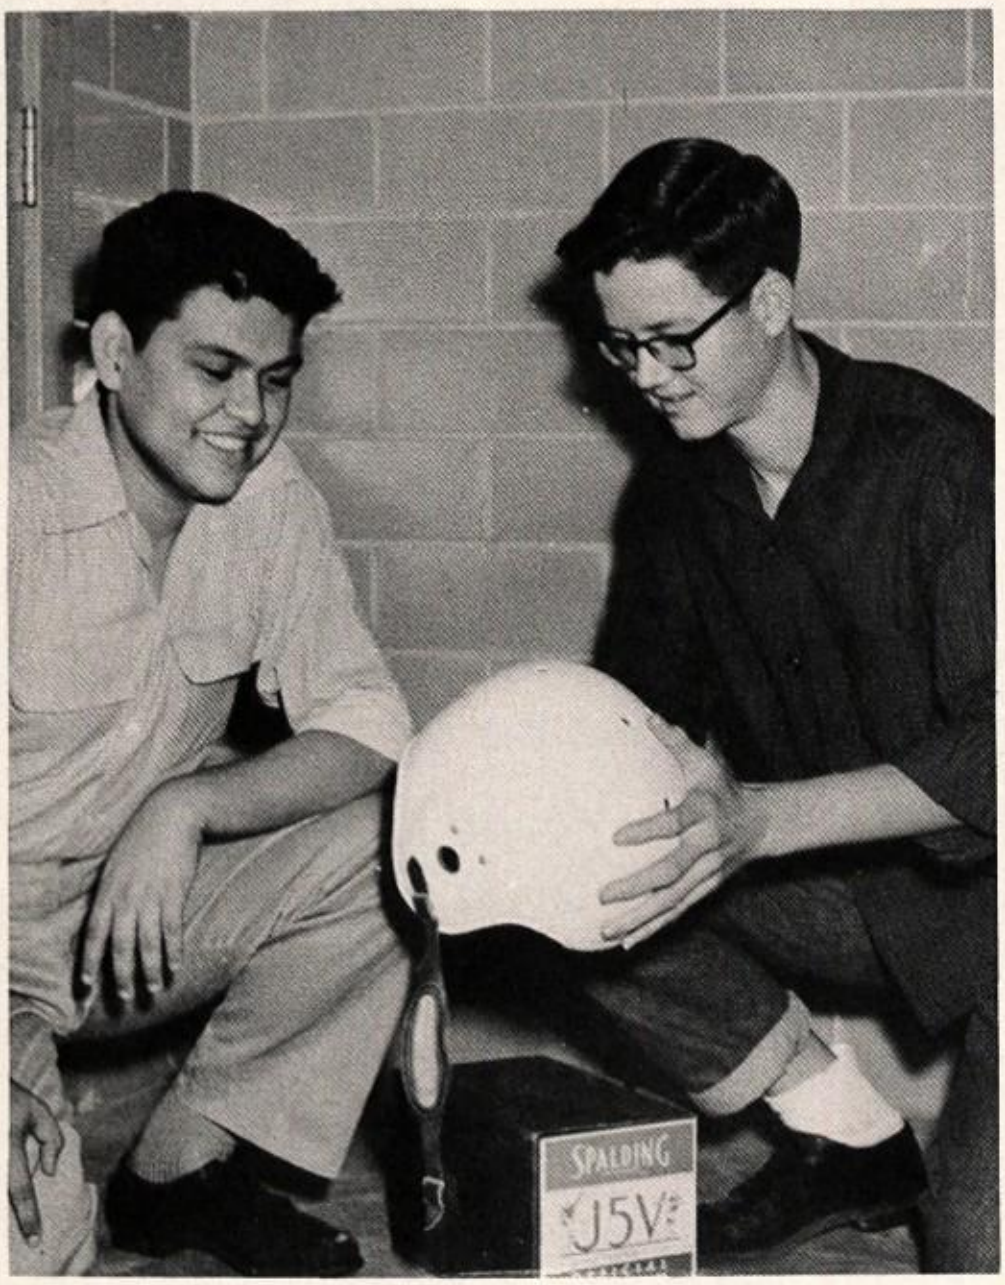
Under the most difficult of situations Head Coach Barnes "Foots" Milam and Assistant Coach June Davis formed a very capable team in such a short time. Many long hours of tedious and trying work on the coaches' part were rewarded with a successful first year Rebel team. Pictured above, the coaches are planning the strategy to "Beat McCallum" next season.



Responsible for keeping the Rebels' equipment in good working order was a task that Student Managers Pete Rivera and John Jackson were confronted with. Checking the condition of game helmets is one of the many jobs they perform.

"B" Team

Ending their first season the "B" team basketball boys of Travis finished with a five won and eleven lost record.

In the Texas Deaf School Tournament the Rebel "B" teamers finished third and were awarded a beautiful trophy.

In intra-city competition the Rebels lost all four contests with the Austin High Maroon Bees.

Against the Knights of McCallum the Rebels were able to triumph in two of the four meetings with the rival school.

On All-City selections Roger Neubauer was named on the first team. Jack Cowen and Roger Park were named on the second team. The "B" squad was coached by Mr. June Davis before he resigned his position.

Second row: Dallas Ford, Terry Houghton, Donnie Johnson, Elwood Munson, James Stalnaker (manager), Gary Augren, John Platt, Coach "Dutch" Schroeder.

Winning six out of the twelve games they played, the Junior Rebel cagers did well for themselves this first year. Under the expert guidance of Coach "Dutch" Schroeder, the team showed excellent spirit and many of the players may prove themselves valuable next year on the varsity and "B" teams.

Baseball - 1954

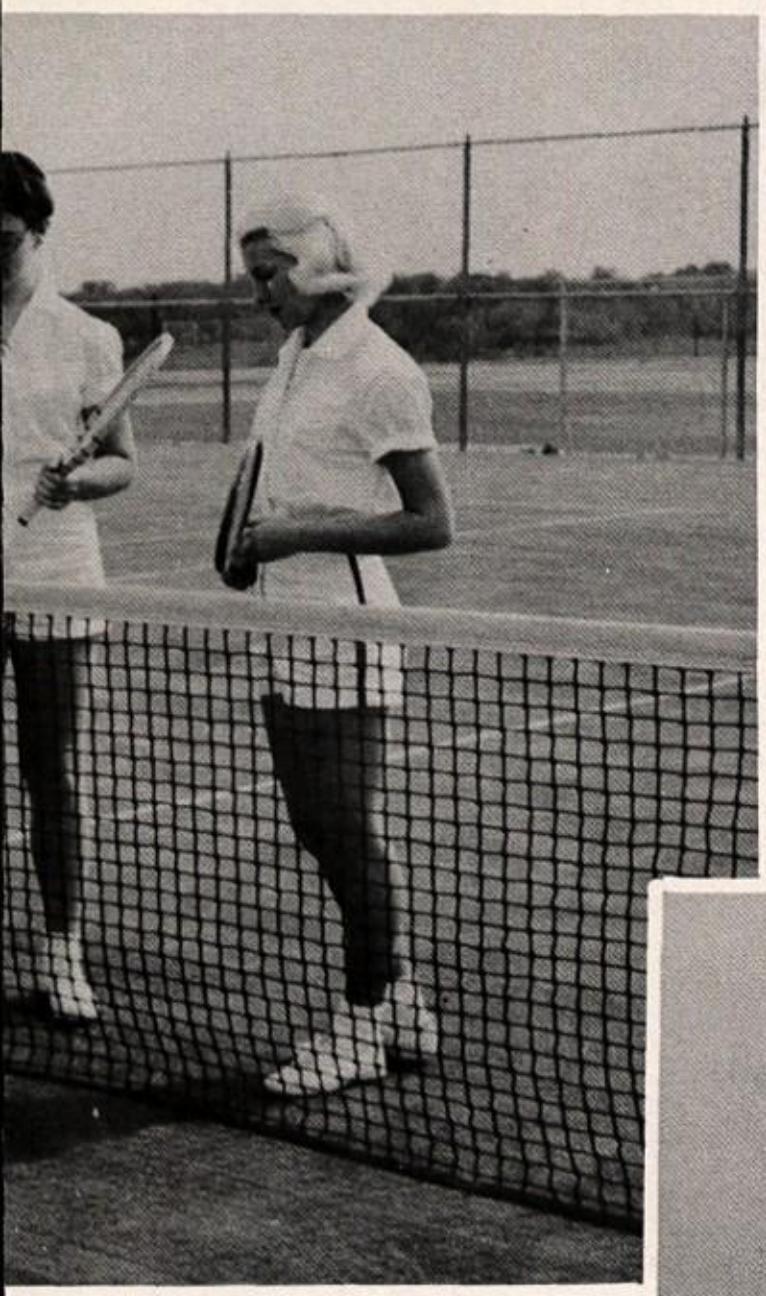
Tennis

Mrs. Betty Eteir, tennis coach, keeps a record of the team members' practices.



Below: Hardly tired after a long afternoon of practice, members of the boys' tennis team prepare to leave the court. Members of the team are (left to right) James Pinget, Roy Davis, Donnie Schieffer, Johnnie Hodnet, and Alan Johnson.

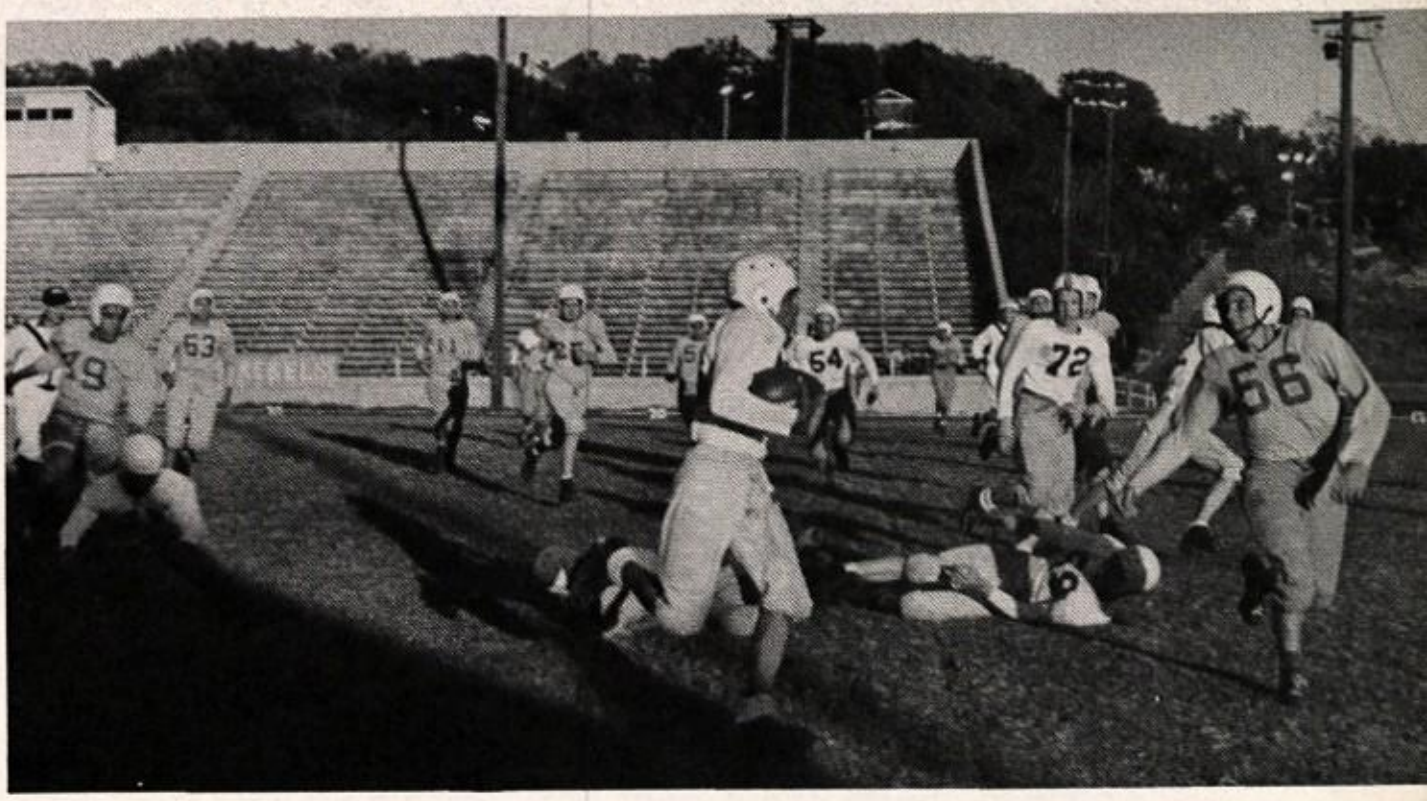
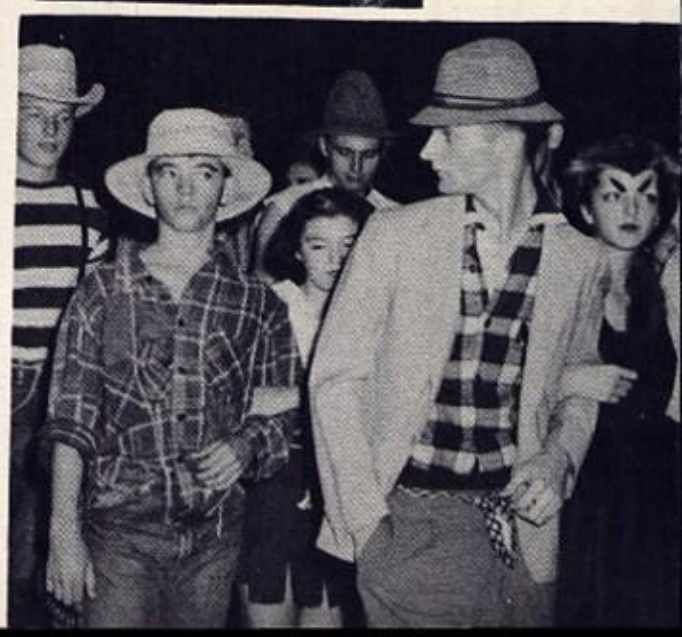
(Upper left) Travis was officially dedicated September 20. An open house followed the impressive service. (Center left) Joy Neyland shows off the modern homemaking department. (Lower left) Rah! Rah! Rah! It's the Palestine game with the Rebelettes and the band in their bright new uniforms. (Upper center) Dale Foster hangs up his jacket as the bus gets under way for the Bryan football game. Clark Nanyes leans out in the aisle. (Center) "Come on the bus and you can read my comic book," Lloyd Hendricks says. Standing behind him is Hava Guedea. (Lower center) Doing their stuff at an informal pep rally are Betsy Fredrickson, Elsie Krause, Beth Gaddy, Helen Burrer, Pat Holtzclaw, Frances Haberlin, and Johnice Gregg. (Upper right) Here's an example of our ninth grade football team, really giving the game their best. (Lower right) "May the best man win," say Pat LaTouf and Lynn Huff, Travis' first Student Council presidential nominees. Don Kirksey and Winton Scott, their running mates, agree in the background.

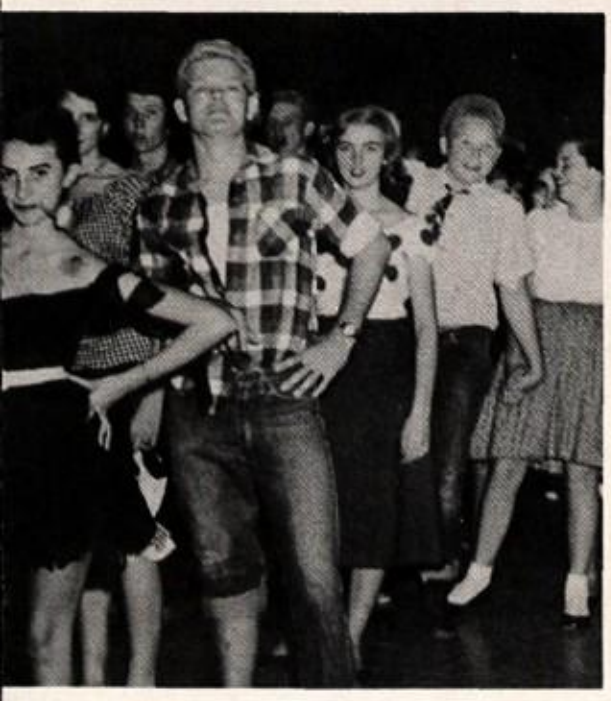


Lupe Martinez, Charlene Feaster, James Shuffield, Joyce Barnett, and Jill Harvey.

"S" Day - Sadie Hawkins & Subscriptions

Bill Jackson, Mattie Lou Sankey, Pat Callahan, Bobbie Groos, and Nancy Boone.

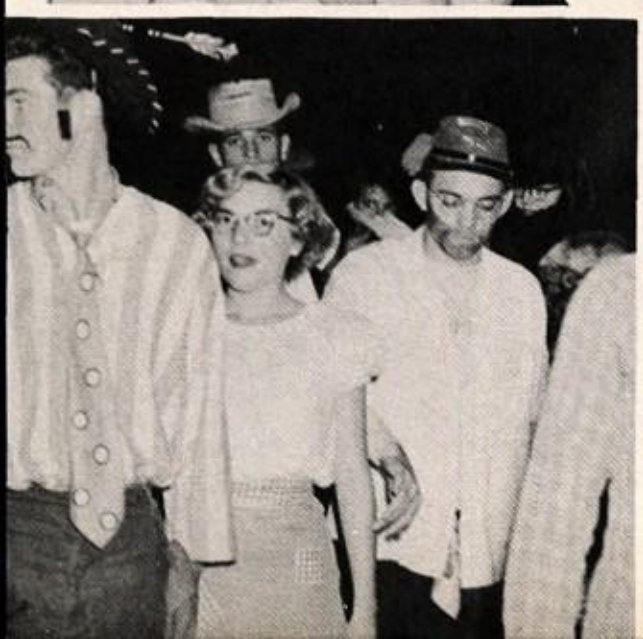


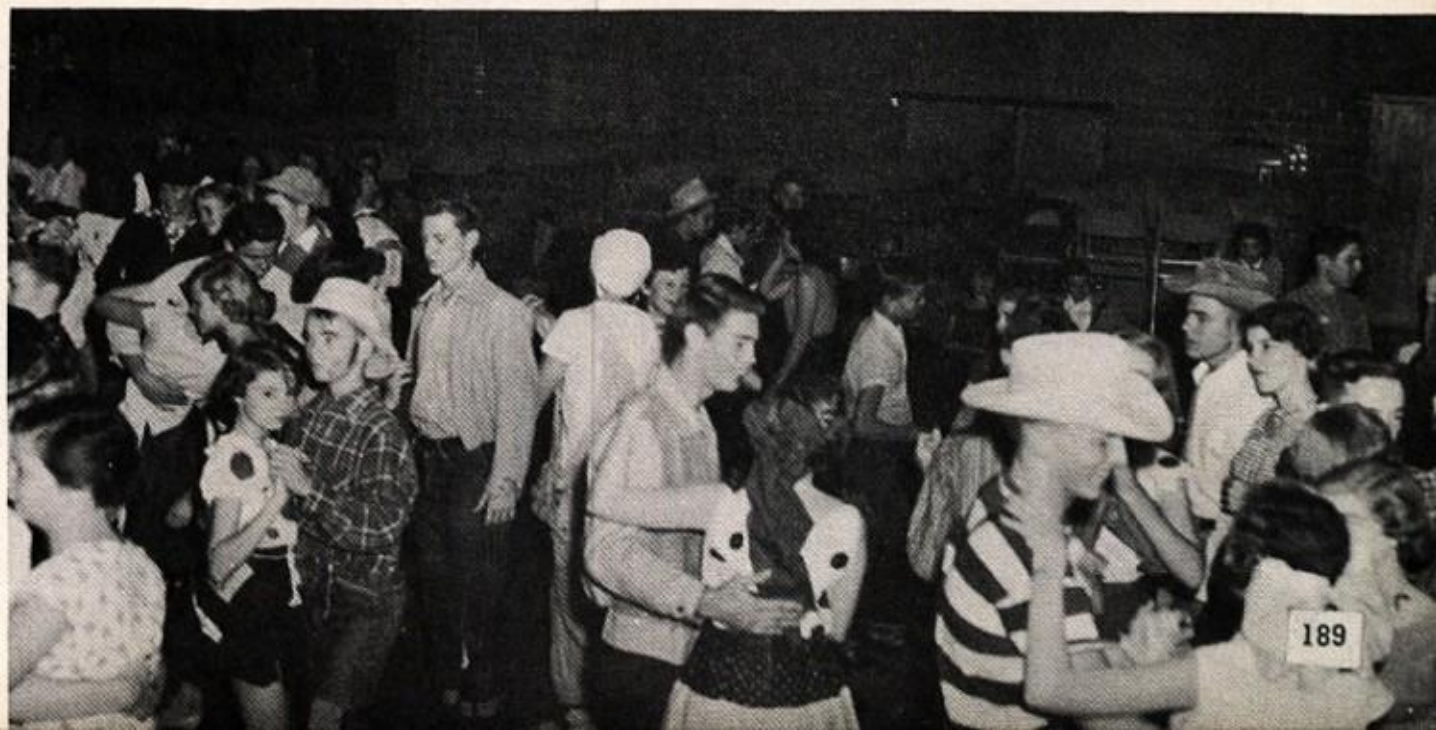


Helen Willingham, Elena Conkle, Tommy Davidson, Harvey Baily, R. B. Ashworth, and Joanne Seymour.

Kickoff day for the Rebel Roundup Subscription Drive turned Travis into Dogpatch, temporarily anyway. At the Sadie Hawkins dance the following night, Bill Dye won a jump rope as best dressed character. Cute Wynoal Pierce was his date.

Kenneth Dunnam, Kenneth Holt, Austin O'Daniel, Demarious Keller, Sylvia Stitt, and Barbara Neal.





Show Those Colors, Rebels!

Barbara Jean Reed, Robert Treadwell, Shirley Thurman, and Mary Tucke

It's still another version of "Dragnet" this time by Billy Baldwin, Gordo Hawkins, Mattie Lou Sankey, James Shuffield, and Melvin Putnam.

Wallace Howard, Totsy Crockett, Alden Hobgood, Shirley Dudley, Ter
Smalley, and Rene Strong raise clasped hands in the familiar Travis wa as they give a fervent cheer at the well remembered bonfire.

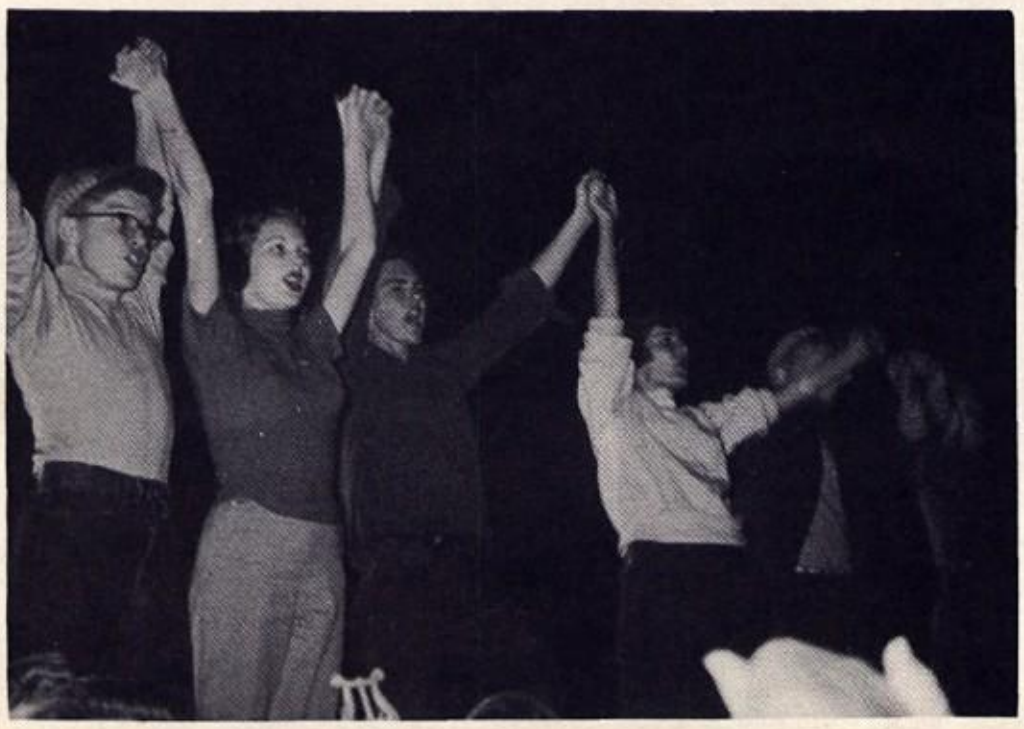
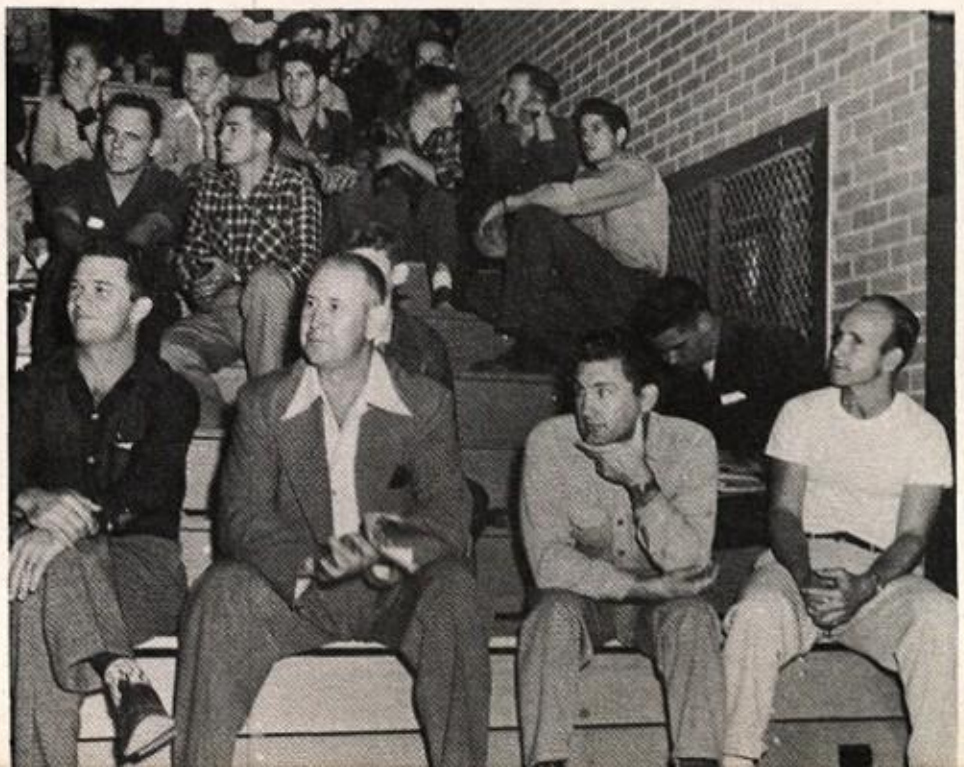
Smiling, serious, thinking, wondering, they're Travis' four coaches, Allison, Milam, Davis, and Schroeder, and they're all hoping, at the Color Day assembly.



McCallum editors, Patsy Smith, Barbara Fuller and Eddie Hughes, agree with Reb editors, Pat Holtzclaw, Bill White, Mitchell Smith, and Joy Neyland, that friendly spirit will continue between the North and South rivals no matter who gets possession of the victory bell.

After the Big Game, Mr. Sloan congratulates McCallum's principal, Mr. Whittner in the halls of the Knights.



Christmas in Dixieland

enter) Preparations for the dance are justified that night. rbara Jackson and Robert Treadwell, James Brady and niece Spinks are just two of the many couples enjoying the etty scene. ower center) The familiar story "All we want is the facts, 'm," was given an original treatment by Elwood Munson, n Johnson, Claude Hargrave, Joyce Barnett, Dianne eaver, and Miles Moriarty at the Publications' Talent ow.

pper right) The real spirit of Christmas invaded Travis as dents brought gifts of food and clothing to fill boxes for e needy. The Salvation Army was more than pleased to lp distribute the gaily decorated boxes.

ight center) Mr. Autry tries to keep his little cherubs with-t halos in order at the Talent Show. In everyday life they e the Men's Choir. Left to right David Dyer, Bert Rivera, ck Rocha, Dale Foster, Alden Hobgood, Larry Jordan, ck Ling and Peanut Sheffield.

January

February

Johnny Birge, John Jackson, Wilburn French, and Sherman Eckols all take part in the Centennial Pageant.

Two interested parents (right center) as well as Molly Howell, Peggy Schwartz, and Miss Madge Simmons are all engrossed in the exhibits.

Students representing various phases of the curriculum lift Claude Hargrove, depicting the average student, illustrating that it takes the whole school program to support the student.

Inspecting the exhibits at the Centennial are Carlene Bunce, Richard Higgins, Bobby Brasfield, Diane Allen, Wayne Carter, and Bill White.

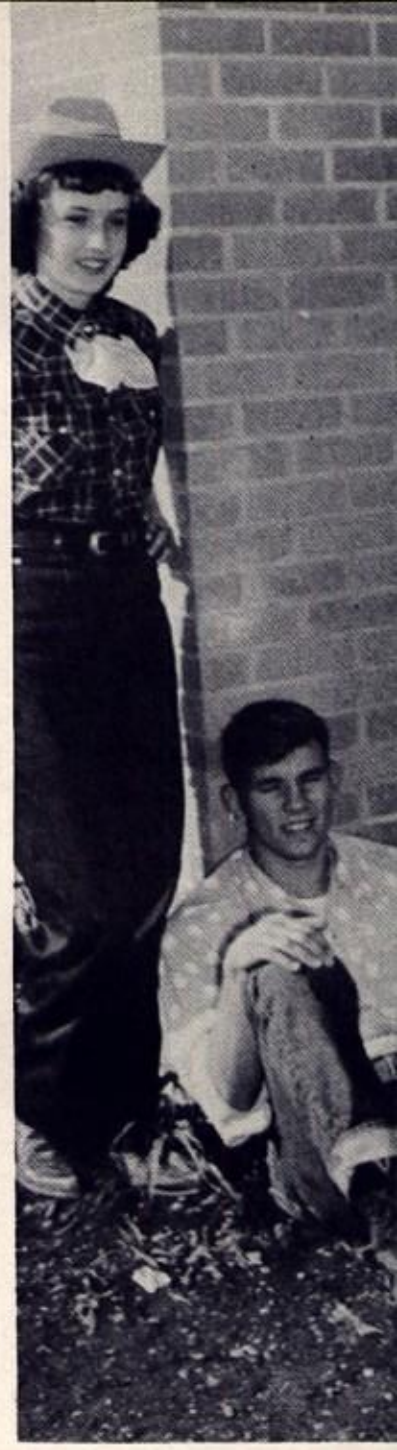
And Then



A spring highlight was the Rebelette Southern Ball. Team work in planning and decorating made it an outstanding. success.

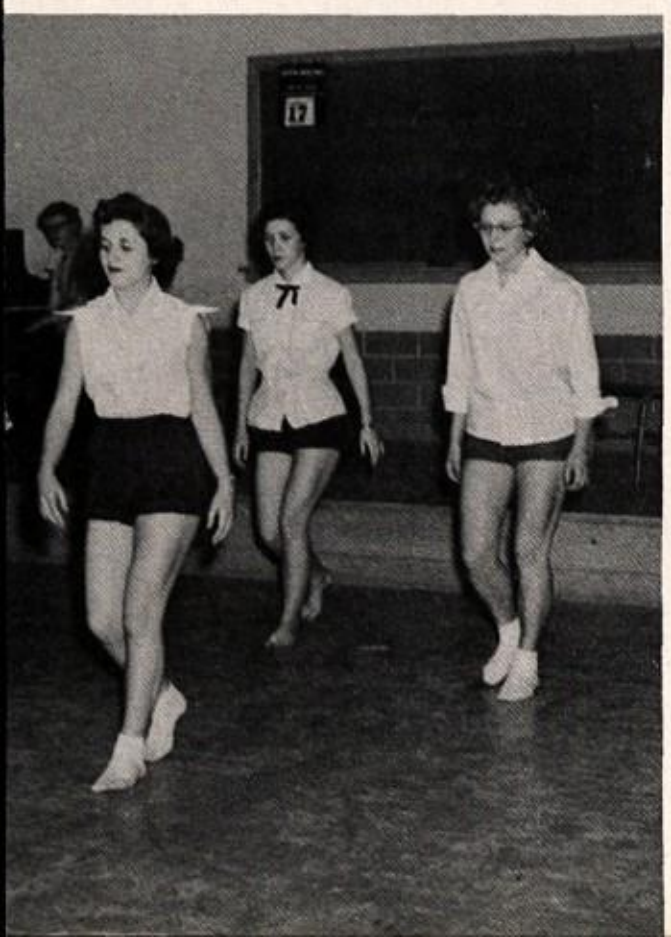
It's spring again and time for new clothes and style shows. LaVerne Schwartz modeled a formal she had made in class at the Homemaking Show.

It's Spring

Another sure sign of warm weather were the science field trips, exploring the grounds uncovered all sorts of interesting facts. Wanda Hyden and Roberta Perry with teacher Mr. Tyson are out on such an excursion.

)ne-two-three," Norma Glenn, Ruth Ann Hill, ayle McCormick, Eleanor Burns, and Kay hl follow the lead of Jimmy Hemphill as ay Fete practice gets started.



Virginia Pierce also shone at the style show in the dress she made.
